From the Minister ...

It has been very encouraging over recent weeks and months to have new ventures underway.

As I write, we have begun 'Future Focus' at Cockpen & Carrington and look forward to starting it also at Lasswade & Rosewell in mid-March. As has been mentioned, this is an opportunity to review and plan prayerfully for where we would like to be in the life and worship and activities of the churches in three to four years' time. We look forward to building on what we are doing, with some fresh ideas emerging too, as we seek to be a blessing in our community.

The 'Knit and Natter' group has also been running now for some months on a Thursday afternoon at Cockpen Church Hall. Quite a number of ladies have been gathering for tea/coffee and home baking, time for company and chat and an opportunity to be creative in a variety of ways including knitting, crocheting, and doing tapestry, cross stitch and art work. Amongst items being produced by members of the group at the moment are knitted chicks for some of our Easter celebrations and red poppies to create a Remembrance cascade for later in the year. 'Knit and Natter' is proving a relaxing and enjoyable time for all those who attend and anyone interested in joining the group will be most welcome.

It is also a joy that Rev. Elisabeth Spence has now begun as Pioneer Minister for Hopefield. She has been busy making many helpful contacts since she started in December 2016 and can be found on her Facebook page, 'Hopefield Connections' for up-to-date comments, news and events.

It's a fitting time of year to celebrate new beginnings and opportunities. With the lengthening, brightening days, there are colourful signs of spring with snowdrops, daffodils and crocuses blooming once more. In this season of Lent, we also progress towards Easter, the most special time of year when we celebrate the new and lasting life and hope that Jesus has made possible for us. May you have a very Happy Easter!

FROM THE COCKPEN AND CARRINGTON CLERK

It is always an exciting time of the year when we prepare our Easter edition of the magazine as Spring is just around the corner. Snowdrops are flowering and the spring bulbs are starting to show. The days are getting longer too, allowing us to enjoy more time outdoors.

Lorna, our Minister, has been with us now for a year and we hope she feels settled with us, the other churches and indeed within the community. We as a congregation have experienced a more settled and organised year than of late with our services of worship having a more stable and meaningful effect as we have journeyed through the Christian calendar.

We have held a number of very successful fund raising events over the past twelve months, both for Charity and the Church. The most recent was our Church Christmas Fair when we raised the sum of £1,800. Our next event will be an Easter coffee morning with home baking, tombola and raffles. This will be held on Saturday 1st April in the Church hall from 10 a.m. until 12 noon. The proceeds will go to Church funds. Tickets will cost £3.

On 19th March our AGM will be held in Church after morning worship. Accounts for last year will be presented to the congregation together with reports from the Minister and Church organisations.

The following Sunday, 26th March, a Cradle Roll service will be held where children who have been baptised over the last few years and their parents are invited to come together in an all-age service in Church at 11.30 a.m. It is hoped that all will stay behind after the service and enjoy a cup of tea, coffee or juice and have the opportunity to join together in fellowship.

Our knit and natter group which started up last year is proving popular with an average of 15 people attending on a weekly basis. It is open to all, not just church members. We have people attending from outwith the church and beautiful friendships are being formed. You don't have to knit or crochet (you can learn if you wish as some have done) but you can come along just for a good natter over a cup of tea.

As I write, we are entering the quiet and thoughtful season of Lent, traditionally a time of preparation for Easter.

We have our Holy Week services at Our Lady of Consolation Church on Monday; Rosewell for the Tuesday service; Lasswade Church for the Wednesday Service; St Leonard's Church on Thursday and here at Cockpen and Carrington we hold the Good Friday service. All services commence at 7.30 p.m. Please come along to any or all of the Holy Week services.

May the Easter message of Resurrection and joyous hope inspire us all.

Liz Mills

Cake Stall

Many thanks to all our bakers who regularly provide goods for our stall. The customers are always delighted and sometimes find it difficult to decide what to choose. Thanks also to the Pitcairn staff and Bonnyrigg Church who make us so welcome on our Thursday.

The next dates for the stall are, as follows -

23rd March, 2017
27th April, 2017
25th May, 2017
22nd June, 2017

Any goods for the stall can be handed in to the Pitcairn Centre between 9 - 9.30 a.m. on these dates.

Best wishes,
Helen, Isobel and Wilma.

FROM THE ORGANIST

The date of Easter seems to have been particularly volatile over recent years - within the last decade we have had close to both the earliest possible and latest possible dates for Easter Day. After falling in March last year the date this time round moves back substantially to 16 April. This does have the advantage of giving us a little more time to rehearse!

Following the pattern of the last few years, Cockpen & Carrington will be hosting the Holy Week service for Good Friday. In addition to the congregational hymns the choir will be performing two items appropriate to the day. Firstly, as in recent years we will be singing the opening part of "The Reproaches", an ancient text for Good Friday stretching back well over 1,000 years drawing on both the Old and New Testaments, the music being a mixture of the original plainsong and a setting of the refrain ("O my people, what have I done unto thee?") by the Spanish 16th century composer Victoria. For the second item we will be turning to a traditional English carol, "O mortal man, remember well" - this is often called the "Sussex Mummers' Carol" as it was collected in the 19th century from its performance by a group of "mummers" or strolling players. While nowadays the word "carol" is associated mainly with Christmas there are in fact many traditional carols for other seasons of the year and this one is a meditation on the crucifixion.

Easter Day will of course be very different from the sombre music of Good Friday. This year we will be singing two items new to our repertoire, firstly an introit by Maurice Greene, "Honour and majesty are before Him". Greene was a contemporary of Handel and was the organist of St Paul's Cathedral as well as professor of music at Cambridge. Moving forward to the 20th century, our anthem will be "Jesu, the King of Gentleness" by Alfred Hollins. Easter anthems naturally tend to be loud and triumphant but as the title suggests this is an exception to that rule, being very much in a lyrical vein. Although blind from birth, Hollins made a notable career as a concert pianist (including playing for Queen Victoria in his very young days) before switching to focus on the organ - as many will know he eventually settled in Edinburgh and was for numerous years the organist of St George's West Church. As a composer he is best known for his many organ works (some of which I have played at Cockpen) but this gives us an opportunity to hear his gift for vocal melody.

As often on these occasions the organ music concluding the service will be drawn from the French tradition, in this case Alexandre Guilmant's "Grand Choeur alla Handel", which as the name suggests draws on the musical style of the 18th century for its inspiration - seen very much through late 19th century eyes however!

The choir and I look forward to contributing once again to our worship for this high point of the church's year in what I hope will be a fitting way.

GMB, March 2017

From a book - 'Breaking the Rules'

A story by the late Eddie Askew which I share with you from time to time. I've enjoyed these books very much and would commend them to you. G.S.

On Easter morning, Mary finds Jesus' tomb empty and stands in the garden, weeping for her loss. Jesus comes to her but she doesn't recognise him immediately. She thinks he's the gardener.

A few days later, Peter and some of the other disciples take a boat and go fishing in Galilee. Jesus calls to them from the shore but they don't realise at first who he is. Two other disciples, walking the road to Emmaus, meet a stranger. Going with them, he talks, explains and comforts. Again, it's Jesus.

I don't know why these close friends of Jesus didn't recognise him straight away. I don't understand what made him different after the resurrection. It isn't really important that I should.

The important thing is to realise that Jesus is unpredictable. He shows himself in whatever way he chooses; not capriciously, but in ways that startle, puzzle us, surprise us out of our easy assumptions; ways that widen our awareness.

In our insecurity, we try to make rules. "This is how Christians should act." "This is how you recognise the Holy Spirit." "This is how ..." and hard luck the Christian who breaks our rules. But Jesus breaks them all the time.

He broke the Sabbath rules to heal the sick, to respond to need with love, not law, and he still breaks them, to tell us that life can't be lived in a self-imposed straitjacket, that he can't be contained within our limited vision. Life is an unpredictable adventure, but that he's in it with us, even though we can't always see him, don't always recognise him. He tells us to look for goodness in unlikely places, to find him in unlikely people.

When we open our closed and timid minds to the glory of his presence, we shall find him everywhere and, in everyone.

Loving Father, we too may often be like the disciples so teach us all to open our eyes so that we may see you in everything we do and say. G.S.

Guild News

Having started off the New Year with our usual Nibbles & Natter night the next meeting of our Guild found us enjoying a sing-a-long at the end of “An Evening with Iain McPhail”. Iain told us how he became a professional musician and of the tremendous opportunities here and abroad that have enriched his life through playing his accordion. He had brought along several instruments including his first basic accordion and the new hi-tec one he uses today. He closed the presentation by playing a few tunes such as The Laird O’ Cockpen and, as it was near Burns’ night, he included some of the Bard’s work as well.

Our next speaker told us of the Community Garden which is situated in the grounds of the New Community Hospital and which is open to all. The speaker was keen for us to spread the word that they would like more volunteers to participate in this wonderful garden project and told us all to look out for a table sale, perhaps weekly, at the hospital entrance where they will be selling surplus produce over the growing season.

Two university friends of our minister came to tell us of the work of a Glasgow-based charity called Dwelling Places UK that aims to help alleviate the plight of street children in Uganda. It is quite mind blowing how many children in the world have to live on the streets of cities through poverty.

We are preparing for spring by getting Vivian Wallace along to show us how we can improve our fitness by doing Armchair Keep Fit. Now that could prove a challenge for some!

On March 20th we have a talk from the Lothian Autistic Society.

We have gained 6 new members this session and have plenty room for more. Please take up our invitation to come along and see if you may like to join us and remember the invitation is to gentlemen as well as ladies.

Please keep in mind that our Closing Social will be held on Monday 24th. April and we are holding another Charity Afternoon Tea in May. Both these events are very popular and further details and tickets will be available soon.

Hopefield Connection

It's been nearly three months now since I began the task of working in the new housing area of Hopefield. It's been a time of making links with people and beginning to see what the way forward is for the work.

I am using the title Hopefield Connections for the project with three aims: Making Connections – Building Community – Sharing Faith. This sums up what we are trying to achieve in the area and also makes it clear we are faith based.

There is a Facebook page called Hopefield Connections. Over Advent and also Lent there was a daily message and a picture for people to just take five minutes out of their day to think about something wider than the routine of living. The Facebook page is a great way to communicate with people and to build up a relationship with folk. If you use Facebook please like us! If you know someone who lives in Hopefield please tell them about the page.

At Christmas time I invited the Kevock Choir to come Carol Singing round the estate. We stopped in four places to sing a few carols. In spite of the pouring rain people came to their doors and I was able to have a chat with many folk about what we were trying to do in the area. The Carol Singing was well received and one lady put on Facebook the next day that she thought she had left the radio on and was listening to a professional choir – the Kevock Choir are a real band of angels!

On Sunday 16th April there will be an Easter Event with an Easter Egg Treasure Hunt, Easter crafts, a Puppet Show and the Connect Bus from Loanhead Parish Church will make its first appearance on the scene! I am very grateful to the ladies in the Knit & Natter group for rising to the challenge of producing 50 plus chicks plus Crème Eggs for the event.

Working as a Pioneer Minister is a great adventure and there are many contacts to be made, people to engage with and fun to be had in Hopefield. Who knows where it will all end up and what it will look like but each small step moves us closer. I am excited to be the one coordinating the work and what we do and I am grateful for interest, support and help the local churches have already given me. Please keep the work and me in your prayers.

Blessings,

Elisabeth Spence

Heart and Soul 2017 : Sunday 21 May : Princes Street Gardens

What is Heart and Soul?

In 2011, we decided that not enough was done to celebrate the life and work of the church with those who very much keep it alive and working – the members, volunteers, ministers and congregations alike! It was then that we hosted our first public celebration in Princes Street Gardens called "Roll Away the Stone".

With live music, arts, exhibitions and a massed open-air worship in the gardens' Ross theatre. The event proved itself successful in bringing our church family together.

It was in 2012 that Heart and Soul became the new incarnation of Roll Away the Stone and has stuck with us each year since – building on the vibrant atmosphere every time.

As ever, Heart and Soul 2017 promises an exciting programme for all ages; with even more live music and performances on either of our "main stages", more energy and fun in our children and youth zones and an even greater worship experience – all with Jesus at the centre.

A Penny for your Thoughts:

You've probably heard the story of the hen and the pig. As they walked down the farm road, they reflected that things weren't what they used to be. "Take the Scottish breakfast." said the hen. "Who tucks into bacon and eggs now? All these breakfast cereals make me feel so unwanted." Just then they came to a transport cafe at the end of the road. Outside was a placard advertising bacon and eggs at £2.50. "Look," said the hen, "we're needed after all!" But the pig didn't share her excitement. "It's all very well for you," he said. "You only have to make a contribution. For me, it's total commitment!" The story has many applications. It applies to life in our community. A few committed people, the "movers and shakers", work hard to make it a better place while the majority make the occasional contribution. And it's much the same in the church. Many of us make a contribution to the life of the congregation (and, of course, contributions of every kind are always welcome), but how much more dynamic, vigorous and fit for purpose the church would be if sacrificial commitment were the norm among us. The challenges we face in the church are many half empty pews, the task of reaching out to a generation who are lost to the church, financial shortfalls, the legacy of buildings largely unsuited to present needs, the erosion of faith, the uncertainty which now surrounds once clear moral codes and more. The challenges are many and call for a high degree of commitment from us all if they are to be met. While we don't pin our hopes for the church on our efforts but on the sovereign, renewing work of God's Spirit, it is the case that God works through people who are consecrated to him.

MACMILLAN CANCER SUPPORT TEAM:

A big thank you was received for supporting Macmillan over the years and donating an amazing sum of £6,338.

I would also like to take this opportunity to thank everyone most sincerely for all the help given (in various ways).

Visit to Indonesia:

A few years ago, May and I were on a Royal Caribbean Cruise and Stay calling at 2 places in Indonesia.

At one we boarded a steam train which puffed along a coastal countryside and were given sweets to give to local children who ran alongside the railway.

We then left at a station which contained old Dutch and German Steam Locomotives. The late Robert Moncrieff would have loved this: our train consisted of open sided carriages with wooden seats.

We visited a Park, which had 2 Komodo Dragons and were informed that they had to stop feeding them live prey, as a bite from these fearsome beasts brought a slow agonising death to any animal bitten by them. Our cruise itinerary did not include Komodo Island where they roam freely.

We then had to walk to an Arts and Craft Centre and on the way had to go very quietly as we passed a colony of Bats which were hanging over our heads.

We also were at Kuta Beach Town where not long after our visit there was a terrorist attack. So I do not know if cruise ships visit this country any more due to political instability in this area.

Other members of our congregation may have visited the Island of Bali, which mainly attracted tourists from Australia and Japan. We did get a reminder of home whilst in this country as the National Flag is the same colours as Bonnyrigg Rose Football Club.

Lasswade and Rosewell Choir

Once again I have to extend my thanks to the regular choir for their continued support and my thanks also go to those who augmented the numbers at Christmas. I am extremely grateful to these ladies and gentlemen for giving their time and talent to further the musical contribution to our worship.

Readers may be interested to know that recently the Kirk Session gave permission for a young man who is learning to play the organ, and who is being taught by someone I know, to practise on the Lasswade instrument. This young man, who is still attending Lasswade High, has been in the church a number of times and it is good that we are encouraging young people in this way.

My article this time is really one of reflection as I still cannot see the way ahead clearly as far as music is concerned.

A few weeks ago I came into the church in the late afternoon on one of these glorious winter days. The sun was setting and the sunlight was streaming through the stained glass Memorial Windows on the west wall and really setting them alive. The lower light on the right of the right hand window as you look at the pulpit was particularly radiant. This features Dorcas, which is the Greek translation for Tabitha, who was a believer in Joppa. Dorcas means “a deer” and she made shirts and coats and spent all her time helping the poor. In fact the quotation on the window is “This woman was full of good works”. In the Acts of the Apostles we read that Dorcas took ill and died. Peter was summoned from nearby Lydda. He faced Dorcas’ body and commanded her to get up. After summoning the believers and the widows who were in another room he presented Dorcas to them, alive. It was rather appropriate that when I saw the sun lighting up this window, this particular light featuring Dorcas was really set alive.

President Trump, Brexit, IndyRef2, the Changing Pattern of Services and Future Focus are all issues which affect us, or could affect us, in varying degrees. No one is able to say what the outcome of any of them will be. I am reminded of the well-known hymn “My times are in Thy hand”, written by William Freeman Lloyd who lived in Gloucestershire between 1794 and 1853. Mr. Lloyd took a great interest in Sunday School work and in 1810 he was appointed as one of the Secretaries of the Sunday School Union. The hymn can be sung to several tunes, including “Dennis” which was composed by Johann Georg Nageli. In these uncertain times one could reflect on the words:-

*My times are in Thy hand,
Why should I doubt or fear?
My Father's hand will never cause

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

Let's start our Easter article as usual by looking back over the past few months at what's been going on:

1. CHRISTMAS 2016

We had two coaches full for our Christmas outing to the pantomime to see Jack and the Beanstalk and it was fabulous - there were more adults than children there!

Our Nativity Play was a wonderful occasion - Steven Skirving, our Sunday School photographer (!), has kindly provided some photos for you all to see. Our play was "The very hopeless camel" - some of you may remember it from around 14/15 years ago! Layla Adam was the very hopeless camel who simply kept getting lost! She was ably supported by her two fellow camels: Levi Boyle & Ryan Scott. Their costumes were made all those years ago by Pamela Renton - thanks again Pamela. Meadow McCabe & Gracie Adam were stars and Meadow's Papa Jim had made a new star for the occasion; thanks Jim. Our angels were: Gabriel - Aimee Scott, with Molly Adam, Cameryn Crombie and Rosie Skirving. Mary & Joseph were again played by Gillian & Graeme Scott. Herod was played by Craig Adam; our innkeeper and wife played by Sharyn McKenzie & Kim Skirving and of course our Wise Men: Sara Adam, Nadia Boyle & Margaret Gordon. Blair Skirving, Ian McCabe & Jim Scott were shepherds. Brodie Boyle was our narrator. All were amazing and through song and the beautifully read narration we were all able to follow this lovely story. One of the most touching moments was a solo sung by (then) 10 year old Aimee Scott - probably the youngest soloist we've ever had in church and I'm certain both Herbert and Graham would love to recruit her for their choirs.

Well done everyone.

Again one of the things which makes our Nativity extra-special is the fact that adults and children appear alongside one another - this is a daunting experience for all ages, but as ever, by working together you achieved an incredible production.

You will have admired our new manger during our services, which should last many years. Thanks again to Johnny Lumsden for making this.

Baby Jesus was loaned by Emily Gray, one of our former pupils, who is quite poignantly working with Syrian refugee children in Turkey.

Thank you for another generous retiring offering at Lasswade.

2. FRIENDS OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

We are indebted to a number of people known to us as "Friends of the Sunday School". - You know who you are, but your generous contributions allow the Sunday School to be self-sufficient and enjoy our trips and helps to pay for all our outgoings. We are so blessed that you remember us. Thank you all.

3. PANTO 2017!

Yes if it's the Easter magazine, then we must be thinking about Christmas outings! We are booked again for Sunday 3 December at 5pm for the pantomime at the Kings Theatre, which is Cinderella! Please book early. Final numbers and payment required by 3 September.

4. ALL AGE SERVICES

The Minister has continued to hold a monthly all age service. She has encouraged the children to read the lessons and participate in her sermons. The visual aids are great.

5. NEW CHURCH MEMBER

Ian McCabe decided to join Cockpen & Carrington church and his admission was witnessed by family, friends and his Sunday School family at the all age service in February. It was a lovely service and something not often seen by the children in our congregation. Ian has shown a long, dedicated commitment to his Christian faith and we will all benefit from his membership. We wish him great joy on this journey.

6. EASTER

The combined Sunday School expects to be at Rosewell Parish Church on 16 April for our traditional Easter festivities.

7. PRIZEGIVING

Our prizegiving will be held on Sunday 11 June at 10am in Lasswade Church. This will be a joint service for both congregations.

8. PICNIC

We are still to finalise arrangements for this year's trip but will intimate these in due course.

9. DAVID DUNN FITNESS TRAIL

Many of you will now be familiar with the news of the David Dunn Fitness Trail in King George V park in Bonnyrigg. David's Grand daughter, Sharyn, is a stalwart of the Sunday School and sadly David never met his great grand children: Jacob & Drew have moved on from Sunday School but Cameryn is still at Sunday School.

A selection of Photos from the Sunday School Nativity Play

Colour versions of the photographs will be on display in church.

THE HOLY HIKERS

"After a day's walk everything has twice its usual value"

George Macauley Trevelyan

Our November walk took us round Roslin and the Esk Valley on a six-mile excursion which 12 of the group enjoyed very much. This was led by Hilary and Glen.

On Saturday 10th December they once again led us on a short walk round the Bush Estate. This was followed by lunch at Cibo Restaurant at Gowkley Moss. The meal was superb and we all had a lovely afternoon.

There was no walk in January and unfortunately we had to cancel February's trip to East Linton due to bad weather.

We will walk in the Meldon Hills in March and later in the month go for our Weekend Away to Northumberland.

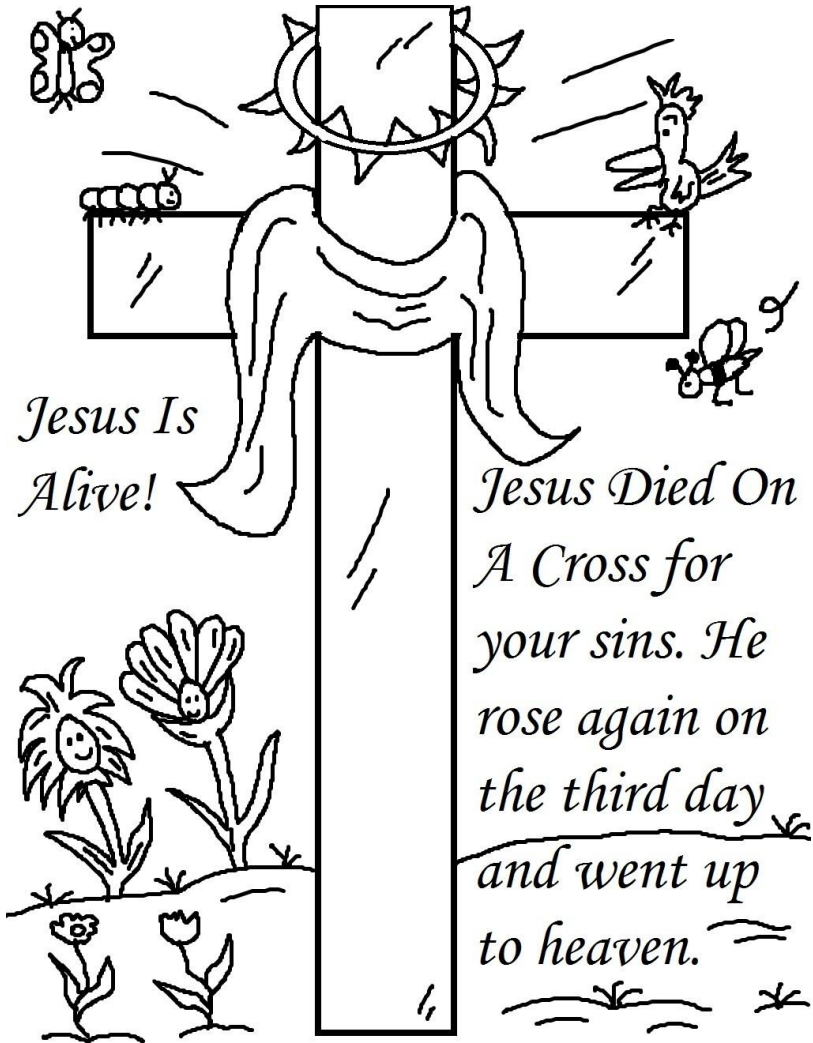

We welcome new members. Contact me on 0131 660 1147

Happy Hiking
